

Opening the Door.

Having alluded in a general and abstract way to the great dormant mineral wealth of country and to the duty of opening wide, so to speak, the door, in order that foreign capital may flow in for the purpose of developing that wealth, we now come to deal with a branch of the subject somewhat more circumstantially. There exists on the lower part of William Creek no inconsiderable stretch of depressed ground commonly known as 'The Meadows.' Numerous attempts have been from time to time made, upon a more or less extended scale, to mine in that flat ground, but with one common result. It was found that the flux of water was altogether too great to be effectually combatted, at least by any of the modes employed; and thus an element that formed the miner's boon higher up constituted the miner's bane here. Of the richness of the ground none doubted. Enough prospecting had been done on and contiguous to the ground in question to establish the belief that there lay concealed deep in 'The Meadows' rich deposits which must ultimately reward persevering enterprise. Year after year new effort had been added to the long list of failures, until, during more recent seasons, none have been found bold enough to repeat the attempt to unearth the rich treasure held with so much tenacity by 'The Meadows.' It is now more than a year since a larger scheme for dealing with the ground was propounded; but that scheme never attained any tangible form, probably owing chiefly to the absence of adequate capital with which to carry out so great an undertaking; and so the whole matter has remained in statu quo. This brings us to a more interesting and important period, we might say epoch, in the history of 'The Meadows' and, it may be said, of the colony. Not many days ago two gentlemen, well accustomed to deal with large mining enterprises in California and Nevada, arrived from San Francisco. These gentlemen lost no time in making a definite and business-like proposition to the Governor, having for its object the thorough development of 'The Meadows.' As these gentlemen have been met by the Governor in the right spirit, and as the preliminary negotiations have resulted in an agreement between the parties thereto, it may not be considered out of place to offer a cursory view of the proposed enterprise, accompanied with a word or two about its projectors and the probable influence this undertaking is likely to exert upon the mining interests of the colony. The Government on its part grants a lease for a term of years of a section of 'The Meadows' five miles in length and extending from bank to bank, having a width of something like three quarters of a mile. The lessees on their part forthwith commence bona fide operations, and propose erecting on the ground during the present season pumping and hoisting machinery with steam power of not less than sixty horse. It is proposed to deal with the ground by two modes, viz, by means of sinking vertical shafts and running tunnels therefrom, and also by means of opening a bedrock drain or flame. The former process will be commenced somewhere near the upper end of the ground, and will employ the powerful pumping and hoisting machinery already mentioned. This class of working, in all probability, need experience little interruption during winter. The latter process will necessarily take for its initial point the lower end of the ground, working upward until the entire flat shall have been intersected by a mammoth channel which will serve the ready purpose of draining off the water, and into which the entire ground can be washed by the ordinary hydraulic process. It will at once be seen that as this channel pierces the ground it will enable hydraulic washings to be prosecuted on either side. This class of workings it is the intention of the company to place within the reach of all free miners who may acquire the right to a reasonable section of ground for a moderate charge for drainage and water. And thus will ultimately be seen a double row of merry 'pipers,' extending along the entire line of channel, engaged, with little risk and capital, in taking gold from an enormous area of ground over which the water has hitherto held undisputed empire. Let us see how many claims would thus be opened and brought within the scope of individual effort: Allowing the claims on either side to run back to the bank, they would have a length of 660 feet, and giving a frontage of 100 feet on the channel or drain, each mile would give one hundred and five claims. The five miles would give five hundred and twenty-five claims. It will not be necessary to drift any further into details, and estimate the number of men who would thus find steady and remunerative employment, and the probable daily yield of the hitherto wholly unproductive Meadows. These are mere arithmetical problems which the reader may work out for himself. It may not be too much to intimate the possibility of 'The Meadows,' under such treatment, employing as much labor and yielding as much gold as all the rest of William Creek, if not, indeed, the whole of Cariboo. The Company, thus so opportunely stepping forward to bring about such desirable results, will be styled 'Lane & Kuriz Cariboo Mining Company.' The two gentlemen from whom the Company takes its name are the same who have negotiated the scheme with the Government, and who proceed to Cariboo to-day for the purpose of making the surveys necessary to the final ratification of the contract. Colonel Lane is a gentleman who has been connected with some of the largest and most successful mining enterprises in the State of Nevada. Indeed he has played a prominent part in introducing Eastern and English capital into the mining enterprises of that State—enterprises to which Nevada in great part owes its present flourishing condition. Amongst the last of Colonel Lane's transactions in that State was the recent sale to a company in London of the Lane & Fuller Mine, at Austin, for the sum of forty thousand pounds sterling. Of Mr John Kuriz much need not be said, as recollections of him must still be comparatively green in the minds of many in British Columbia. One of the early pioneers, Mr Kuriz was one of the most energetic promoters of some of the largest mining enterprises of bygone days in Cariboo. The originator of the Artesian Mining Company, he is merely carrying out now, on a larger and more promising basis, the old determination to develop ground which he has never ceased to regard as containing enormous quantities of gold. Such are the two gentlemen who are the originators of and chief operators in an enterprise which, whether regarded in the light of its own immediate results, or as the breaking of the ice, the forerunner of kindred enterprises, promises to constitute an important epoch in the history of British Columbia. These gentlemen represent considerable capital of their own; but, in addition to that, there are other capitalists at their back; and we feel perfectly justified in confidently affirming that it is only necessary for them to establish the fact of the existence in this colony of profitable employment for capital in order to get all we want. Should the Lane & Kuriz enterprise prove successful it will be but the first of a series of extended mining operations in this colony to be undertaken by foreign capital. There is at the present time a strong desire to seek out new fields where capital will be free from those taxes and exactions so unmercifully piled up in the United States. And we are apt to think that this colony will, when it becomes known, present just such a field, for in no other country could mining enterprises enjoy greater immunity than they do here. It may be proper to state that it is the intention of Messrs Lane and Kuriz to place four-twentieths of the stock of the company in the market in the colony. This will do away with a prejudice which occasionally crops up in some people's minds. We congratulate the colony upon the advent of just such an enterprise as all have been waiting for, and we must be permitted to congratulate His Excellency the Governor upon the spirit in which he has met these gentlemen.

A CHANCE FOR BARAINS IN CLOTHING.—A. Gilmore, Yates street, near Government, has commenced to sell off his entire stock of ready-made clothing at cost, to close out that branch of his business, as he intends to confine his attention to MERCHANT TAILORING. NOTICE.

THE BRITISH COLONIST.
Friday Morning, June 10, 1870.

CRICKET.—ENGLAND VS. CANADA.—The England eleven will visit Canada this summer, leaving Liverpool about the 18th of August by the Canadian steamer. According to latest accounts the English team was nearly complete, and would include two of the celebrated Messrs. Grace, the great batsmen, and several other well known gentlemen players. It is understood that the first match will be played at Montreal, the next two at Toronto, one at London or Hamilton, and probably two in the United States. As might be supposed, there is great activity and preparation amongst Canadian cricketers, at the several points where playing will take place, and the occasion promises to be an interesting one. There is nothing said about the English team taking a run across the Continent; but one would think it highly probable that they would not return home without visiting the Pacific breeze. A visit to America is but half made without it.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.—The very opportune thoughts and suggestions conveyed in a communication in another column cannot be too strongly pressed upon the attention of this and other communities throughout the country. They especially demand the serious attention of the people of Victoria. The present hot spell may be long or it may be short. The present season may be wet or it may be dry. These matters altogether beyond either our ken or control. But present duty is plain. Let it be the care of each to discharge that duty. The latest news from San Francisco tells of smallpox raging there; and who can say that it will not be introduced here? With hot weather, no sewerage, and bad water in precarious supply, woe to Victoria should that loathsome disease find us in a state of unpreparedness! Should the season prove unusually dry the water supply question presents itself before the public mind with all its attendant horrors. In truth we fear to look out. Meanwhile, however, let every member of the community give earnest heed to present duty, and let the City Council, which according to the Health Ordinance of last year constitutes the local Board of Health, do its duty.

SUPREME COURT.—Scully vs. Lee.—The Attorney General, instructed by Mr. Drake [Drake & Aikman], made application on Wednesday to have that part of the count for criminal conversation on the part of the defendant struck out of the declaration, on the ground that the action of crim. con. was abolished by the Divorce Act of 1857, which act came in force in this colony by the passage of the Act of the local Legislature which imported all laws in force in England in 1858 into this colony. Mr. McCreight and Mr. Robertson, instructed by Messrs. Peckars & Davis, opposed the application. The argument lasted two entire days, and the Chief Justice last evening sustained the application.

ALEXANDER'S GLOVES IN NEW AND BEAUTIFUL COLORES.—The French Perfect Corset from the most celebrated maker in Paris. These corsets, from the scientific principle on which they are cut, give universal satisfaction. Lace Shawls and Half-Shawls, and the new Lace Mantle. Some entirely new makes of Dress Materials. Millinery, a really beautiful assortment. Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, Mouseline, Trimmings, &c. &c. Riding Habits and Jackets, made by a celebrated London Tailor, and a great variety of other goods, rendering ours as complete a stock of Drapery, &c., as would be seen in Regent street or Broadway. — LONDON HOUSE.

FROM PUGET SOUND.—The steamer Vernon. Capt. T. G. Nash, arrived yesterday afternoon from Puget Sound, bringing seven passengers to connect with the steamship Active, amongst whom were Mr. Wood of Port Discovery, Capt. Calhoun and son, and Mrs. Hill. Capt. Nash is the new mail contractor for Puget Sound, receiving for the service $12,000 per annum. The captain says his new steamer Tacoma—which is about the size of the Eliza Anderson—will arrive at Victoria on the 15th or 20th of this month.

MILL STREAM WATER.—Messrs. Williams & Arthur, contractors for the supply of H. M. Fleet with pure water from Mill stream, are about to offer the water for the supply of Victoria. The water will be brought around by the schooner Spring Ridge, Capt. Jimmy Jones. The capacity of the schooner is 24 tons, and it is expected she will make a trip a day between Victoria and Esquimaux.

FATE OF A WHISKY SELLER.—Thomas White, convicted of selling whisky to Indians, and allowed at large upon his own recognizances, was yesterday sentenced [metaphorically] to pay a fine of $250 or six months' imprisonment. Thomas has fled to the American side, where he will remain until the atmosphere of Victoria shall have cooled somewhat.

Prevention Better than Cure.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—

At the present season it may perhaps not be amiss to offer a few remarks concerning diphtheria and its congeners, more particularly as to their cause and the best means of obviating or palliating their too often disastrous effects. Leaving the proximate cause of these diseases to theorists, nothing is more certain to the student of hygiene than that many low forms of disease such as Typhoid Fever, Malignant Scarlatina, and the worst forms of diphtheria have a powerful predisposing, if not a direct exciting cause, in the presence of cess-pits, foul drains, &c., in close contiguity with human habitations. This city of Victoria with its manifold advantages, labors under two serious drawbacks, viz.—Bad drainage, and a deficient water supply. Therefore be it borne in mind that the causes of disease are with us, and with us it remains to battle with them. Another fact, well known to the medical statistician, but not generally understood, is this:—that although individual cases of disease may be cured by prompt treatment, every epidemic has a ratio of mortality. In other words an epidemic once established, a certain reorganized proportion of deaths will inevitably ensue.

A very painful reflection now arises in connection with this subject. The great brunt of such a disease as diphtheria is borne by the young and helpless portion of the community, by those who are at once ignorant of the evil influences by which they are surrounded, and at the same time powerless to resist them. It is to parents and guardians therefore these remarks should commend themselves. Without entering on the subject of a radical cure to these defects, it may be asked, can anything be done to neutralize the noxious emanations arising from cess-pits, drains, &c.? To this it may be answered that by using some disinfectant perseveringly and in sufficient quantity, the poisonous quality of the effluvia may be neutralized if not altogether destroyed. If such a step be taken by a few scattered individuals the good result must necessarily be limited, but if such a course were systematically adopted great benefit would accrue to the community at large. Common quick lime, chloride of lime, commercial sulphate of iron (copperas), and crude carbolic acid are all good and cheap disinfectants. Fresh earth thrown into cess-pits is also a valuable agent. On no account, however, should there be any removal or 'stirring up' of ight soil, or any extensive opening up of drains during the present hot, dry season. The subject of contagion is passed over because, although disease may be propagated in this way, it is no argument against using the best preventive means in our power.

The Death of Lopez.

A Buenos Ayres correspondent of the New York Times, March 30th, writes as follows:

Mme. Lynch is now on board the Brazilian flag-ship at Asuncion; it is expected she will be sent direct to Europe. Most persons are inclined to think that Lopez's death differed very little from murder, now the full details are come. The Brazilian reports that he was shot by a musket ball and that while in this defenseless position a lancer ran him through, for which act of heroic bravery (?) the lancer has been promoted to a colonelcy. Lopez and his sons were hastily buried by the Brazilians in a manner more primitive than decent, seeing which Mme. Lynch and her remaining children dug another grave and buried the corpses decently; at least this account of all this is given by the Nation's correspondent.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Eastern States.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A bill for the regulation of labor contracts, intended to apply Chinese immigrants, to prohibit contracts for longer terms than six months, and also providing for the return of such Chinese to their own country, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Europe.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 5.—Yesterday afternoon a fire broke out which spread rapidly through the richest quarters of the city. The flames were first discovered in the old building on the north side of the Golden Horn. A strong wind was blowing at the time. The fire spread quickly to adjoining buildings, and all the efforts of the firemen and citizens to check its progress were unavailing. In a few hours the residences of the English, American and Portuguese Consuls, Naemine Theatre, many churches and mosques, thousands of houses and the richest stores and shops in the city were reduced to ashes. The loss of life by falling walls, etc., is fearful, being estimated that at least 30 people were killed or injured by that cause alone. The loss of property is enormous. The fire is still burning furiously, and the excitement of the people beggars all description.

NEW YORK, June 5.—A special says private dispatches from Constantinople report that the massacre of Jews in Roumania was from four to eight thousand. The leaders are former officers in the U. S. and Confederate armies with Gen. Rosecrans in command. Headquarters, New York City. Principal subordinate depots, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Houston, Texas, New Orleans and Shreveport. Gen. Magruder is commander of the New Orleans portion of the expedition. PARIS, June 6.—M. Prevost Paradat has been appointed Minister from France to the United States.

LONDON, June 8.—Wolff's Continental Telegraphic Company, of Berlin, with sub-agencies in the principal cities of Europe, know nothing of any recent disturbances in Roumania. The manager of that company decides that the telegraphic dispatch of Adolph Cremieux is an exaggeration, and says all reports touching the slaughter and banishment of Roumanian Jews are baseless.

Red River.

Intelligence has been received from Fort Garry that a large meeting of French settlers was held at White Horse Plains, when resistance to the Red River Expedition was unanimously favored. It is believed a proclamation of independence will be issued.

A piece of old-fashioned gallantry was eating lighted candle-ends in honor of a beloved mistress. This could not be done by the Cosack who, on arriving in Paris exclaimed, 'How ingenious the French are! They have invented sticks of soap with a thread to hold them by; you don't lose a crumb!'

MARAVILLA COCOA.—For Breakfast.—The Globe says—'Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we dub whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs. THE PRIVILEGES OF STOCKHOLDERS.—Two gentlemen were chatting on the Boulevard; one was a great speculator, developing the plan of a magnificent project; the other a dazed capitalist, ready to snap at the bait. He hesitated a little, but was just yielding, merely making a few objections for conscience sake. Near these two passed a couple of youngsters of twelve years. They were looking into a tobacco shop closely by and one cried out to the other: 'By the pipe! I'd like to smoke a sou's worth of tobacco.'

'Well,' said the other, 'buy a sou's worth.'

'Ah! as luck will have it, I haven't the sou.'

'Hold on! I've got two sous.'

'That's the ticket! just the thing; one for the pipe, and one for the tobacco.'

'Oh, yes; but what am I to do?'

'You? Oh! you shall be stockholder; you can spit.'

It was a flash of light. The capitalist thrust his hands into his pockets and fled. The speculator cast a furious look at the youths, and turned down the street, — Journal of the Telegraph.

BRITISH MAILS ACROSS AMERICA.—The Chicago Post, of May 13th, says: 'As an illustration of the revolution that has been brought about by the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad—the world's highway between the two great oceans and to India—we may mention the fact that last Wednesday evening's express train's from this city on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, as we are informed by conductor J. P. Ames, carried the British East India mail comprising forty sealed sacks from Auckland, Yokohama, New Zealand, Japan and China, all directed to the London (England) Postoffice.'

HAIR VIGOR.—In common with many others we have felt a lively interest in the investigations which Dr. Ayer has been making to provide a remedy. His researches are said to have been much more thorough and exhaustive than ever made before. The result is now before us under the name of Ayer's Hair Vigor. We have given it a trial, and with full satisfaction it equals our most favorable anticipations. Our gray hairs have disappeared, or resumed their original color; and a visible crop of soft, silken hair has started on a part of the scalp which was entirely bald. [Democrat, Abingdon, Va.]
